

DOCUMENTARY “MOTHER, LOVE, SEPARATION” DIRECTED BY ALDO SULOLLARI

OCTOBER 28, 2024

The story of the pain and sufferings of mothers and families of people trapped in the MEK. Aldo Sulollari, the media manager of Nejat Society Albania, together with Erisa Edrisi, the head of the NGO, had a trip to the Persian Gulf last summer, and visited Soraya Abdullahi (mother of Amir Aslan Hassanzadeh) and Masoumeh Rezaei (mother of Saeed Farajullah Hosseini).

The sons of these two mothers have been taken as hostages by the MEK for years. Sulollari and Edrisi conducted meetings and discussions with the suffering mothers. They were closely involved in the pain and sufferings of the mothers and families of the members of the MEK who are trapped in the group’s camp in Manez, Albania.

The outcome of the meetings and conversations of several days on what these two mothers explained on behalf of all mothers and suffering families, in addition to additional images from the records on the issue in Iran, is a 40-minute documentary, titled “Mother, Love, Separation” (“Nëna, Dashuria Ndarja” in Albanian language) which was directed by Aldo with the help of Erisa’s as the translator.

Albanian citizen comments on the MEK isolated members

October 14, 2024

Every time I see the members of the MEK in the streets of Tirana, I recognize them without hesitation. This quick recognition is not only because of their appearance, but also because of their behavior, which is very different from the world around them. MEK members always move in groups of three or four, as if this is part of their strategy. This habit alone can indicate the depth of belonging to the group, which may have been rooted from long years of living in closed environments.

This situation is not only an example of the internal dictatorship of an organization, but also reminds of the dark times of slavery. Where a person is forcibly deprived of the outside world and even the smallest human rights are ignored.

Revealed in court

Massoud Rajavi’s Blood Bank

October 2, 2024

Massoud Khodabandeh, a former member of the Mujahedin-e Khalq (MEK) was an official of Masoud Rajavi’s protection team before he left the group. As a witness, he addressed the 19th session of the court hearing the accusations of the leaders of MEK, clarifying the internal relations of the group and the approach of Masoud Rajavi as its leader.

Khodabandeh, who was relatively close to Masoud Rajavi, says: “One of the problems I had with Rajavi was that he used to give a lot of orders without any knowledge. One of these cases was his involvement in the operations.”

Responses to Edi Rama's comments in a gathering in New York

October 7, 2024

According to the news reflected in the Albanian media, Prime Minister Edi Rama, who attended the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, was invited by a number of Jewish organizations to a ceremony honoring Albania for the country's aid to the Jews during the Second World War. He participated and gave a speech and answered the questions of the audience.

In response to a question regarding the rumor of the extradition of members of the Mojahedin-e Khalq Organization (MEK, MKO) to Iran based on the request of a court investigating the crimes of the leaders of the MEK in Tehran, and also the start of cooperation between Interpol of Tehran and Interpol of Tirana, he stated that:

“Tehran must understand that we cannot hand over any of them (members of the MEK), but they (the heads of the MEK) must know that they cannot use Albania as a political platform against Iran.”

This part of Edi Rama's speech regarding the Rajavi Cult, i.e. firstly they will not be handed over to Iran for humanitarian reasons and secondly, they are not allowed to do any political activities in the Albanian soil was highlighted in the Albanian media.

THE REACTION OF THE MEK:

However, the MEK, in widely reflecting this news, only addressed the first part of it, i.e. non-extradition, but did not mention the second part of the statement, i.e. not allowing political activity. This lack of honesty on the part of the MEK and a few Farsi-language media in reflecting the news is not new, but anyway, some people have concluded that only the first part of Edi Rama's speech was serious and the second part was not taken so seriously, and it was considered as mostly mentioning to cover up the unlawful image of the statement of the first part.

THE REACTION OF THE CEO OF NAJAT SOCIETY:

Therefore, as my dear colleague Mr. Sulollari stated, as far as the wishes of the suffering families are concerned; while appreciating the humanitarian intentions of the Prime Minister of Albania, his government is requested to have more control over the internal relations of the MEK camp, where they have and apply their own rule and laws.
