MEK; threat to fundamental human rights

November 25, 2024

The Mujahedin-e-Khalq (MEK) organization has often been involved in debates and criticisms regarding its actions, especially concerning human rights violations. This article aims to evaluate some of the most serious allegations against the group and explain why it is considered by many to be a threat to fundamental human rights.

HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY THE MUJAHEDIN-E-KHALQ

In numerous instances, MEK has been accused of violating basic human rights, including the use of violence, manipulation, and the oppression of dissenters within its ranks. Above all, the organization has been criticized for its authoritarian methods of managing its members and creating an atmosphere of fear and control within its camps.

A call for awareness

DOCUMENTARY MOTHER, LOVE, SEPARATION

NOVEMBER 4, 2024

The opening of the public screening of the documentary Mother, Love, Separation held yesterday, November 3rd, in the city of Shkodër.

Aldo sullolari director of the 40-minute documentary made a speech after the screening:

Today we are gathered here to share a story, a story that feels the deep pain of mothers who face a pain that many of us cannot imagine. This film, entitled "Mother, Love, Separation", tells us about the suffering of mothers in Iran, who are separated from their children for years, children who have joined the MEK terrorist organization.

This film is not just a depiction of suffering. It is a call for awareness, a message for all of us, especially for the Albanian public, to support these mothers and their children. Their pain, tears and suffering are evidence of a bitter reality, but our film also shows the power of dedication and conviction to bring back what has been lost.

Thank you for being here to support this film and the message it conveys. I hope we can all be inspired by these mothers' stories and come together for a greater cause.

Thank you!

Violation of human rights in the MEK

November 27, 2024

The Mojahedin-e Khalq Organization (MEK, MKO), as one of the most controversial political and paramilitary groups in Iran's contemporary history, has been widely criticized for years for its inhumane practices and methods.

In a conversation with my husband, who himself was one of the victims of this organization, I realized the depth of human rights violations in this group. He remembers his time in the MEK as a bitter and painful experience. For fourteen years, my husband and many other members were like prisoners who were kept in an isolated environment.

The Mujahedin Khalq Organization and violation of Human Rights

A Clear Picture of Terrorism and Psychological Oppression Against Innocent Individuals

November 11, 2024

At a time when the world is striving for progress toward a peaceful and sustainable future, some terrorist groups, which claim to fight for freedom and justice, continue to cause immeasurable harm. One such group is the People's Mujahedin Organization of Iran (MEK), notorious for its use of violence, psychological manipulation, and blatant human rights violations.

MEK: A Terrorist Organization

MEK is a group that has operated under a rhetoric of liberty and justice, but has used every possible means to violate human rights. Its activities have included direct attacks on civilians, gross abuses against its own members, and violations of the most basic individual rights.

Violations of Human Rights and Psychological Manipulation: Isolation and Control Over Members

One of the most alarming aspects of MEK's activities is the way it treats its own members, subjecting them to harsh conditions of control, isolation from society, and the inability to make independent decisions..

Nejat Albania: A Beacon of Hope for Iranian Refugees Seeking Integration and New Opportunities

Nejat Albania, through its support programs, provides opportunities for individuals who have endured significant suffering, helping them cope with the aftermath of the trauma inflicted by their time in MEK.

An Endless Cycle of Violence and Terror

It is essential to emphasize that MEK and its leaders, using sophisticated manipulation techniques, have created an endless cycle of violence and terror that has destroyed many lives and distorted the identities of innocent people.

Conclusion: The Need for a New Path and Peace

MEK has shown that it is an organization that uses terror and violence to achieve its political objectives, violating human rights and eliminating opportunities for individuals to live free and dignified lives
