The Children of Camp Ashraf streaming on Vimeo

February 16, 2025

The children of Camp Ashraf can be seen by the audience out of Sweden now. Vimeo, the worldwide video platform streamed the documentary on February 11th. This is the first time that the Swedish documentary directed by Sara Moein is streaming with English subtitle.

Vimeo reviews the plot of the Children of Camp Ashraf by this brief summary: Parwin and Amir grew up in a military camp.

As toddlers they were sent away by their parents who wanted to focus on fighting the Mulla-regime of Iran. 30 years later they are still hoping to reunite with their mothers. Will they ever succeed?

An untold scandal involving around a thousand children worldwide, addressing the most urgent issues of our time: exile, identity, radicalization and our inability to see the needs of vulnerable children.

A Ukrainian’s account of attending the MEK demonstration

February 11, 2025

The anti-Iranian demonstration that the MEK organized in Paris on February 8th was, as always, scandalous.

In addition to the numerous Ukrainian flags that showed the presence of hundreds of Ukrainian refugees at the event, there were also reports of the dissatisfaction of these deceived participants.

The image that was viewed the most on social media and was circulated was a tweet from a Ukrainian participant who expressed his dissatisfaction with the service provided by the organizers of the demonstration and blamed Iranians based on the fraudulent performance of the MEK.

This Ukrainian participant wrote in his tweet: “Iranians are deceitful and liar. Yesterday, an Iranian organization invited me to a demonstration against Russia and for support my country, promising hospitality and a tour of Paris, but then I realized that it was a lie and at the beginning of the ceremony they took my country’s flags from me. These same fraudsters are allies of Russia.”

Anti-Iran former US Senator Bob Menendez gets 11-year jail term

February 1, 2025

Former US Senator Bob Menendez, known for his longstanding links to Zionist lobbies, has been sentenced to 11 years in prison for accepting bribes in gold and cash and acting as an agent of Egypt.

There were, however, other donors that packed Menendez's fund with cash, including two individuals closely linked to the Mujahedin Khalq Organization (MKO).

About 15 percent of the people who gave Menendez money are said to be linked to the terror network, which was on the US list of foreign terrorist organizations from 1997 to 2012.

Menendez's support for the group has persisted over the years. The senator met with its leader, Maryam Rajavi in May 2023, and praised the MKO at a 2022 Capitol Hill event organized by a group aligned with the anti-Iran terrorist group.

Throughout his career, Menendez consistently received financial backing from Israeli interests. He strongly opposed Iran's 2015 nuclear deal called the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) and repeatedly called for tougher policies against Tehran, advocating for severe sanctions.

In July 2023, he introduced a bill aimed at preventing the US from removing sanctions on Iran's missile and drone program.

Defeat of the MEK agents in another court

The hypocrisy of the MEK to the point of denying being a Mujahed

February 11, 2025

Mohammad Reza (Ray) Torabi, a former child soldier of the Mujahedin-e Khalq (MEK), informed that the complaint of one of the MEK agents against him was defeated in court.

In 2017, after 18 years of membership in the MEK, Torabi left it and a while later, along with a number of other MEK children, shed light on his experience within the cult-like and violent nature of the group. They speak out about the atrocities of the MEK leaders against their own members.

Nasser Mohammadi's family's request to the head of Tehran Criminal Court

February 3, 2025

The Mohammadi family is among the families of victims of the Mujahedin-e Khalq (MEK), one of those families whose members were murdered by the group.

During the Iran-Iraq War, Nasser Mohammadi was captured by the Mujahedin-e Khalq forces, who were fighting alongside Saddam Hussein's army against their homeland. He was then forced by pressure and threats to participate in the group's cross border operation against Iran, named Forough Javidan (Eternal Light). Since Nasser did not want to take up arms against his homeland, he attempted to flee to Iranian soil near the border, but in the presence of eyewitnesses, he was shot in the back by the MEK agents and was killed.

On Saturday, February 1st, this family met with other members of Nejat Society's office in Zanjan Province. Pursuing the legal process against the MEK leaders and the group itself as a legal entity, through a short video message, they asked the honored head of Branch 11 of the Criminal Court of Tehran Province to consider their family's complaint.
