Leila Giukan: “My father and I have never heard each other’s voice”

August 23, 2020

Rahim Giukan was born in March 1945. In 1981, while a supporter of the Mojahedin-e Khalq (MEK), he fled and in 1982, he left the country and went to Pakistan and then Iraq and joined the organization. At that time he had a wife and four children.

His wife, Ms. Behjat Sediqi, raised their children Mozghan, Mehran, Mohsen and Leila with great difficulty in the absence of their father. She was both a mother and a father to their children. The children are educated and married and have jobs and children, and of course they always felt and feel the father’s absence in their lives. No information was available on Rahim Giukan during these years.

His daughter Leila was only two years old when Rahim left Iran. “My father and I have never heard each other’s voice”, she says. Leila has no memory of her father. Only an old photograph of his father’s youth remains, which she has enlarged, colored and framed.

Rahim Giukan is currently in the MEK camp in Albania. He is not allowed to visit or contact his family after 39 years. Some former members have provided news and information about him to his family. He now has 7 grandchildren. Does he know about it?

Mozghan and Leila came to the office of the Nejat Society in Tehran to get news from their father and take it to the rest of the family. They also gave a video message so that it might somehow reach the father and he could at least write a letter to them.

Mozghan says in a message to his father Rahim: “I want to know why the MEK does not allow the members to contact their families. They can have at least one call with their families and ask them how they are and let them know what they are doing”.

And Leila tells her father: “It is the just right of a daughter to hear her father’s voice for the first time at the age of forty-one, and I wish this right exists for you and to be considered for us so that we can communicate with you”. She continues: “My mother is old now and we miss seeing you,” had been from the Freedom Camp in Iraq. He was granted refugee status, supposedly lasting until 2023. During his time in Al-

On 13 August, media reported that he would be deported from Albania to Greece because he is an “Iranian agent”. The MEK claim that “an asylum seeker, under international law, is a Bidi was then taken to the Greek border at Kapshtica where the Greek authorities wouldn't let him cross. It was reported that the Greek side did not want to carry out deportation procedures.

A representative of Bidi speaking to Exit said that he is not an Iranian agent and that the attempts to deport him and therefore “risking his life” are because he defected from the MEK camp. Exit has been unable to verify this either way.

Ehsan Bidi Press Conference Went Ahead

Sander Lleshaj and the MEK did not want the case of Ehsan Bid and his illegal dumping at the Greek border to come to the media but they failed.

In Albania

August 12, 2020

Over the last week MEK brought a lot of the members to their TV to swear at their families. One of these families is an elderly mother who has 3 children in MEK. She wrote answering the TV onslaught, asking her sons, “What did I say to make you all swear at me? I only asked you to talk to me. Do you expect me to abandon my children and accept they are willingly swearing at their mother for no apparent reason. If this was in the western media, wouldn't you accuse MEK of ‘forced confessions’? Apparently, it's OK if your puppets in Albania do it.”

Information leaked from inside MEK in Albania two days ago tells of a memo distributed to leading members. The memo details a changed work schedule for the Click Farm. Farsi social media accounts should be deleted, and Arabic accounts related to Lebanon created in their stead. The aim is to target the Lebanese people and convince them that Iran and Hizbollah were behind the port explosion. The click farm workers are given various Arabic hashtags and phrases to use which reinforce the message behind the posts.

In addition to these posts there are photoshopped images showing protestors in Beirut with anti-Iran and anti-Hezbollah placards along with the images of Khamenei and Nasrollah crudely placed in some shots. BBC Persian, VOA Persian and other Persian and Arabic outlets have gone into overdrive to use these posts and photos to claim these are by genuine people. However, it is clear from examining events in Beirut that there has been some paid infiltration in the protests against Iran/Hezbollah with some arrests. At the same time, Facebook and Twitter rigorously censor posts which appear to explain the Hezbollah position in Lebanon which say that Hezbollah did not store any of its missiles at the port and do not have any governmental positions which would implicate them in anything that may have caused the explosion.

Collusion Against Ehsan Bidi . Corrupt Albanian Officials And MEK

Ebrahim Khodabande

August 15, 2020

Collaboration between Corrupt elements in Albania's government and the Rajavi Cult against former members and Ehsan Bidi

Iranian asylum seeker Ehsan Bidi has been in the custody of corrupt Albanian security officials since August of last year, without charge, without trial, without the right to visit, and in a completely illegal manner.

base inside Albania.) Since Ehsan Bidi had not complied with the demands of the security forces during this year, despite intense pressure, they had planned another project.

Information emerged that they would first release him, then kidnap him and transfer him to an unknown location, and then express their ignorance about his fate after his release.

The involvement of the Rajavi terrorist cult, which is backed under the control of mercenaries Hassan Heyrani and Gholamreza Shokri. Another mercenary, Ehsan Bidi, who had been exposed in previous announcements by the Security and Counter-Terrorism Commission, has been under arrest in a closed camp for a year since August 2019. During this time he received money and facilities through other mercenaries.

It is also stated that: Gjergji Thanasi and Olsi Yazejiare are in direct contact with mercenaries such as Hassan Heirani, and their café, Frank, is their hangout.

It turned out that the information received was completely correct and the Rajavi cult also tried to prevent any revelations and obstruction of its propaganda during the implementation of this conspiracy, by the former members and those who wish to help them.

In this regard, a campaign was launched in Europe and inside Albania, and letters from many members of the Albanian Parliament as well as representatives of the European Parliament were sent to the Albanian Interior Minister, warning of such a conspiracy.

Many reporters told police they wanted to be with Ehsan Bidi when he was released.

He was recently informed that he was to be released after a year. It was not clear why he was arrested, why he was released without charge or trial, and why he has been in prison for a year.

There was news from some people in the Albanian security apparatus that there was a conspiracy against Bidi. (Bidi is a former member of the MEK – aka Rajavi cult – which operates an extraterritorial, extrajudicial by some Western security services, became even more apparent in this criminal plot when a statement was issued by the so-called “Security and Counter-Terrorism Commission of the National Council of Resistance” on August 10, 2020.

The announcement states: The Iranian Ministry of Intelligence has placed its mercenaries under the control of former members of the Mojahedin-e Khalq Organization (MEK) in two parts

Collusion Against Ehsan Bidi . Corrupt Albanian Officials And MEK

Families and other former members also rallied in Britain, France, Germany, Austria, the Netherlands, Sweden and Turkey, and approached the Albanian embassies there to warn of the conspiracy, which is the work of the Rajavi cult's 'Terrorism and Counter-Security Commission'. The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and other human rights and international organizations also intervened.

Breath taking hours have passed in recent days. The Albanian government, which wants to join the European Union, was at a crossroads as to whether it could further undermine its record and standards by supporting a terrorist cult or choosing a principled approach to its future.

None of the Albanian government officials was held accountable for the large number of referrals and questions regarding Ehsan Bidi. Although he was released on paper, they did not actually release him, and reporters were constantly seeking news. The Rajavi cult was in dire need of not being forced to retreat in this case, so it was fully active with no place left to go.

Finally, on Thursday, August 13th, Ehsan was transferred to an unknown destination with four Arab refugees. In the face of the corrupt elements in the Albanian government and security apparatus, there were those who did not sell their honor and helped from a humane position, and were careful and provided the necessary information. At the risk of their position, these individuals refused to be complicit in the Albanian government's corruption.

As we are already informed, they tried to smuggle him into Greece through a neutral non-residential area and leave him there, but the Greek authorities were immediately informed and they sent troops to close the area, resulting in Albanian agents leaving Ehsan Bidi without water and food in the same uninhabited area.

Informed UN officials immediately went to the scene and transferred Ehsan Bidi to a temporary location to ensure his minimum security. The response of the Albanian authorities to the multitude of questions is very interesting. They merely apologized and claimed innocence in front of international observers.

"I'm sorry, there was a mistake," said a police official, "On the release form of Mr Ehsan Bidi was mistakenly written that he should be deported immediately instead of writing that he should be released immediately."

The Rajavi cult, which was informed immediately about the case by the corrupt government elements, happily announced in one or two of paid for publications that "Ehsan Bidi has been expelled from Albania."

More interestingly, the Albanian Interior Minister was completely embarrassed and blamed the Immigration Office, and of course the Immigration Office reacted that it was completely unaware of the matter and that the security officials and the police acted arbitrarily.

They are currently blocking interviews with Ehsan Bidi. But the ban will not last long, and the corrupt elements in the Albanian government, whose names and identities are well known, will finally be held accountable.

Maryam Rajavi imagined Ehsan Bidi is a pushover

August 16, 2020

The complicity of corrupt elements of the security services, the Albanian government and the Rajavi terrorist cult with the intervention of the US embassy is not hidden from anyone. Iranian diplomats and journalists have been expelled from Albania for alleged security reasons, based on information given solely by the MEK. And this has become the sole propaganda platform of the Rajavi cult, for which Trump has expressed his satisfaction with the Albanian government.

Maryam Rajavi, who considered herself successful in carrying out such conspiracies and used this excuse to suppress dissidents in her organization and linked any criticism and opposition to her to the Ministry of Intelligence of Iran and security issues, this time created a plan for Ehsan Bidi, a former member of the Mojahedin-e Khalq (MEK) and an asylum seeker.

Corrupt elements in the Albanian security police, who easily covered up even the murders by the Rajavi cult in their third camp, this time, went to silence the voice of a former member who had made revelations and encouraged other dissident members to make revelations.

Ehsan Bidi left the MEK in Iraq about seven years ago and tried to reach Europe, where he was imprisoned in Egypt and finally entered Albania as a refugee with the intervention of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees.

In Albania, he endured all kinds of pressures, all of which originated from the Rajavi terrorist cult, and was even threatened and harassed by the mercenaries of the Rajavi cult, but he did not give up and was determined to expose the inhuman nature of Rajavi to everyone.

Finally, in August of last year, Ehsan Bidi, who had a ten-year residence permit as well as a work permit, was illegally arrested by corrupt elements in the security services and the Albanian government without charge. The aim was to expel him from Albania and send him to Iran, and an attempt was made to force Ehsan Bidi to sign such a request so that it could be done easily. But he was tough as nails and resisted.

Maryam Rajavi imagined that Ehsan Bidi was similar to an Iranian diplomat or journalist who could easily be framed and expelled from Albania by giving large bribes to corrupt elements and bringing the US embassy to the square and shouting victory.

Albania wants to join the European Union in order to solve its growing economic problems, and in return, the European Union wants the Albanian government to resolve the current corruption in the judiciary, the police and the government and to bring itself closer to the desired European standards.

A year passed and the issue of Ehsan Bidi was brought to the attention of many legal and human rights circles. The Rajavi cult could not carry out its conspiracy in this one case, and the task became much more difficult for them. The Albanian government was forced to withdraw due to considerations in Europe.

Ehsan Bidi is now free in Albania, and Albanian officials have apologized to him, but this is just the beginning. He will certainly speak more, in detail and at appropriate times. Of course, it goes without saying that the Rajavi cult was so sure of the work of the corrupt elements in the Albanian security apparatus that it published the news of Ehsan Bidi's illegal expulsion from Albania and fed it to the paid media.

In addition to Mr. Ehsan Bidi and his unparalleled one-year resistance, thanks to political activist Mr. Olsi Yazeji, journalist Mr. Gjergji Thanasi, and lawyer Ms. Migena Balla, and many other Albanian politicians, journalists, and lawyers who have worked in this direction and of course, they were insulted, slandered and threatened by the Rajavi cult, as well as the former members' activities in Albania and the families in Europe. Rajavi's conspiracy could not have been thwarted without their tireless efforts.

The MEK and Children – Azar Ghorab

August 22, 2020

She was twenty years old when she died from brain tumor in a hospital in Cologne, Germany. She was left alone and desperate in the last days of her life. Azar's death caused tumult against the Mujahedin Khalq Organization (the MKO/ MEK/ PMOI/ NCRI/ Cult of Rajavi). A defector, Mehdi Khoshhal began to write a book about child victims of the MEK following the heartbreaking death of Azar.

“A number of homeless, orphaned and mentally disordered children are left in the hands of Western societies”, Khoshhal writes about these children. “Some committed suicide due to the sufferings of reminiscence and separation from their families. A finally Azar Ghorab is an instance of those teenagers who had rejected the terrorist MEK's demand to take her to Iraq so the group was angry with her.”

IN 1991, when Iraq invaded Kuwait, Azar was 7 years old. She and her brother Davood, together with hundreds of other children, were sent to Europe under the order of Rajavi. Her father Habib Ghorab and her mother Masoumeh Ehtesham never saw her until her death, they were both in Iraq fighting for the MEK.

Azar who was no more regarded as the MEK's Militia was left alone in Germany, she was not supported by the MEK even in the hardest days of her illness. Her boyfriend and his family were the only ones to help her.

After her distressing death, a lot of defectors of the MEK, such as Yasser Ezzati criticized the MEK. This made the MEK to publish a letter allegedly written by Azar's mother and brother. The letter was not in the memory of Azar but to accuse defectors who supported her of being the agents of the Iranian government.

Ms. Sorayah Abdollahi Appeal to Albanian Government : Let Me Talk To My Son

August 16, 2020

Sorayah Abdollahi appeals to Albanian government to allow her to meet her son Emir Aslan Hasanzadeh

Dr. Olsi Jazexhi:

Emir Aslan Hasanzadeh is an Iranian mojahedeen taken by MEK in 2002 (1381) when he was 21 years old. Now he is 38 years old. Not married. Kept in isolation as a jihadi by the Maryam Rajavi mojahedeen gang in Manza, Albania. His mother Sorayah wants to meet him. But Albanian authorities who obey to the Mojaheedeen command do not allow her and hundreds of other Iranian mothers to come to Albania and see their sons.

She explains to Dr. Olsi Jazexhi her story and the struggle that this Iranian mothers do in order to liberate their children from the Mojahedeen el Halk terrorist organization. Sorayah pleads like a mother to her son, the Albanian government, international community to allow them to meet their children.
